

Andrew Chainey

Andrew has been in business since he left school at 15. He has run Tantrwm.com for 20 years and has consistently employed people during that period.

He has volunteered on projects all over Wales and the World, from helping local schools, to planting trees in deserts, to supporting entrepreneurship and young people.

Andrew's business stays at the forefront of video communications tech, particularly with regards to live streaming, VR, AR, open source RPi, Arduino and Python projects.

Andrew's passion is seeing the South Wales Valleys transform
