Do you know what you need to know?

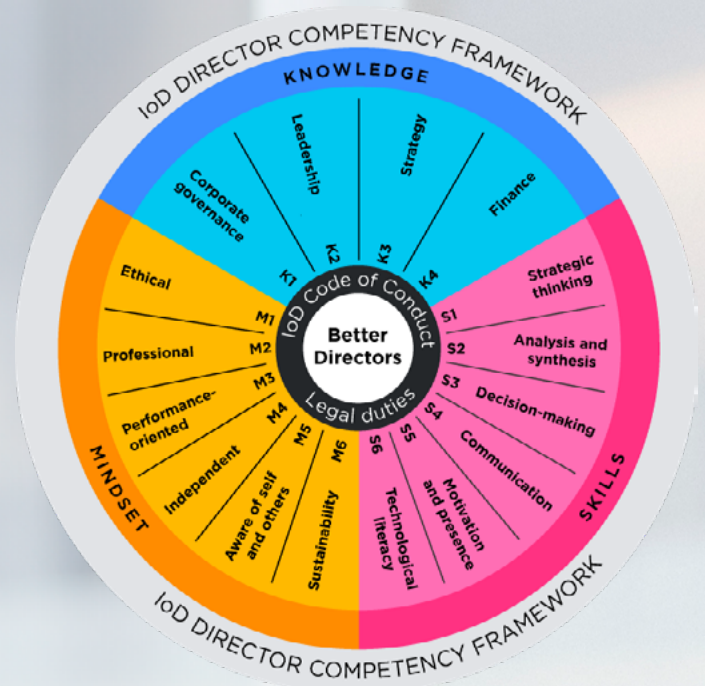

Our Director Competency Framework underpins the Chartered Director Programme. It reflects more than a century's experience of what it takes to be an exceptional director and leader. It was created to help directors assess their competencies and use the feedback to help shape their personal learning pathway.

The framework is the first of its kind, setting out 16 core competencies across three dimensions – knowledge, skills and mindset. Competencies that, when combined, characterise strong and effective directors and leaders. It provides an accessible, measurable and achievable guide to help you become a better director, regardless of sector, industry or role.

You can also use it for your organisation to balance competencies across your board and senior leadership teams by enabling you to:

- Objectively evaluate director competencies
- Tailor continuing professional development (CPD) to individual needs
- Support selection, induction and succession planning for new board members
- Carry out 360° assessments and measure performance

Have a look at the Director Competency Framework at iod.com to see how you measure up.

Chartered Director

Chartered director is an exclusive status held by some of the world's most successful directors and leaders.

The full programme consists of three stages. Stage 1 is the Certificate in Company Direction and includes four core modules. Stage 2 is the Diploma in Company Direction and this is an intensive three-day course that builds on the certificate. Stage 3 is Chartered Director. To be admitted as a chartered director you must first meet specific eligibility criteria and then complete an interview and an assessment of your business experience. On successful completion of all three stages, you will then be awarded chartered director status and may use the designation of CDir.

Stage 1

Certificate in Company Direction

What you need to know to be an effective director

The certificate will equip you with the knowledge you need to function as an effective director and leader. Covering governance, finance, strategy and leadership. This qualification has been SCQF credit rated by Qualifications Scotland. The Certificate in Company Direction is comparable in demand to a degree level qualification. It consists of four modules and four exams that form a bedrock for the next two stages:

- Role of the Director and the Board
- Finance for Non-Finance Directors
- Strategy for Directors
- Leadership for Directors

Offering flexible study routes and blending digital and interactive learning, it is tailored to your level of experience, prior qualifications, career aspirations and learning style.

Stage 3

Chartered Director

Setting the standard for business leaders

The final stage in our Chartered Director Programme is an experience-based assessment of the way you work within the context of your organisation. This can only be undertaken following the successful completion of the Certificate and Diploma in Company Direction.

Stage 2

Diploma in Company Direction

Applying the knowledge you have gained to boost your skills, expertise and impact

This qualification has been SCQF credit rated by Qualifications Scotland. The Diploma in Company Direction is comparable in demand to a master's level qualification. Three days of practical, simulated boardroom challenges in a safe environment will set you up for the diploma examination and have an immediate impact on your performance as a director.

With a focus on real-world situations, this challenging course is intended to take you out of your comfort zone.

An important benefit is the opportunity it brings to connect with your peers from all walks of life, career stage, organisations and boards and to learn from each other.

I would always encourage someone to do the Chartered Director Programme because it allows you to learn more about what other people are doing in your business. I find that I refer to it in some way, shape or form, every week.

New courses on the way!

Examinations

The IoD Certificate in Company Direction and the four components plus the Diploma in Company Direction are credit rated by Qualifications Scotland against the Scottish Credit Qualification Framework (SCQF).

On completion of each course, you will be automatically enrolled onto the next available examination - the first sitting of your certificate and diploma exam is included in the course fee. Any resits must be paid for separately. Exams are completed using a computer-based testing system and are remotely invigilated allowing you to choose when and where you take them.

Certificate

You will need to pass an exam at the end of each of the four certificate modules. Each exam is made up of 16 multiple choice questions and lasts 45 minutes. You'll receive your results within a few weeks.

We will help you prepare for certificate exams with two-hour preparation sessions, scheduled the fortnight before your exam. These sessions are run by course leaders from each of the four certificate areas, providing an opportunity to practice and discuss sample questions with a group of peers.

All information regarding our exams including terms and conditions, regulations and policies and exemptions, can be found in the examinations section on iod.com.

Diploma

To obtain the diploma, you'll need to complete the Developing Board Performance module and pass a three-hour exam. We publish a standard exam question beforehand, which you'll need to answer in relation to a case study released on the day of the exam.
